QUIET JULY 4TH SEEN; FIREWORKS WARNINGS GIVEN

It looks as if the Fourth of July would be a quiet one in San Mateo County.

Police departments, the sheriff's office, and the county fire warden joined today in a collective warning that the county and cities' anti-fireworks ordinances would be strictly enforced over the coming week-end.

County Ordinance 342, and city ordinances which are patterned after it, prohibit the possession, sale or use of all types of explosive fireworks. Penalty is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $300, or a jail term up to 90 days in length, or both.

Sheriff James J. McGrath and Fire Warden Bert L. Werder said special patrols would be established over July 2, 3 and 4 in an effort to enforce the ordinance.

Police Chief C. L. Collins of Redwood City declared the local ordinance "would be enforced to the letter of the law."

Police Chief Foster Andrews of Menlo Park, which a few years ago was the center of fireworks sales in the county, said neither sales nor use would be permitted there this year.

Only place in San Mateo County outside of the extreme north end —Bayshore City permits sale of fireworks—where fireworks will be allowed are at the Pescadero Chamber of Commerce's July 4 celebration on the beach at Bean Hollow, and at the Menlo Circus Club the evening of July 2. Both organizations have obtained permits to present fireworks displays, but it now is too late, under the county ordinance, for anyone else to obtain such permits.

THEY RULE AT WATSONVILLE

Thelma Klaumann (right), beautiful blonde, has been selected as Goddess of Liberty at the annual Watsonville Fourth of July celebration on July 2, 3 and 4. Janet Rodifer (left), another contestant, will be an attendant at the ceremonies over which Miss Klaumann will reign. The program includes the state bicycle championships on Monday afternoon; $1500 fireworks display Monday night; a parade Monday morning; old-timers reception and parade Sunday; a barbecue Monday noon; three dances, street entertainment and sports events.

LIONS SEE MOVIES

Redwood City Lions' Club members last night were entertained by a 2000-foot moving picture depicting the Roosevelt expedition's experiences in Africa two years ago. The meeting was the last to be held under Dr. D. F. Brown as president. L. E. Wolbert will take over at the next meeting.

Addie J. Whitmore Is Taken by Death

Following a period of declining health, Mrs. Addie J. Whitmore passed away Tuesday at the home of her son, A. S. Whitmore, 49 Birch St. She was a native of Illinois but had resided in this city for the past 14 years. She was the widow of Charles Whitmore, who passed away here in December, 1933.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Whitmore leaves three sons, O. C. and A. S. Whitmore of Redwood City, and Earl B. Whitmore of Pekin, Ill. She was a sister of M. P. Sebree of Redwood City and Elmer Sebree of Canton, Ill. Ten grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

Total Over Four Millions

The bonded indebtedness of the governmental units in San Mateo County amounted to at least $53.28 on June 30, 1937, for each man, woman, and child in the county, according to figures made public by the California Taxpayers' Association.

Total bonded indebtedness of the county and political subdivisions amounted to $4,763,077 on that date, the latest for which figures are available, and was $733,500 for the county, $2,032,750 for the school districts, $163,884 for special districts (not all such districts reporting uniformly), and $1,832,943 for the municipalities within the county.

This bonded indebtedness, the association pointed out, does not include the county's share of the bonded debt of the State of California or of the federal government, the state's indebtedness on Feb. 1, 1938, being $188,526,000, while that of the federal government is estimated at $38,000,000,000. In addition, the indebtedness of many irrigation, reclamation, water, etc., districts is not reported to the state controller, and these figures, therefore, are not included uniformly in the total or per capita figures presented by the association.

Only one California county, Mono, reported no bonded indebtedness outstanding at June 30, 1937, the association found. Four counties, Colusa, Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Diego, reported total indebtedness of more than $100 per capita. Five reported indebtedness amounting to less than $10 per capita: Alpine, Amador, Plumas, Sierra, and Trinity. Thirty-one of the fifty-eight California counties showed a total bonded indebtedness outstanding of more than $1,000,000, six showing total indebtedness of more than $10,000,000 in each.

Heart Attacks Fatal On Job to Two Men

At widely separated points in San Mateo County, two men collapsed and died of heart attacks, at their work Monday.

John Maher, 50, San Mateo, maintenance man at the San Mateo Junior College, died instantly after an attack, according to Chief Dep. Coroner Dan O'Connell.

Frank Sarles, of Menlo Park, about 52, collapsed shortly after he went to work for the first time on the WPA La Honda Road project, and died at the office of a Redwood City physician. He was taken to the office by a fellow worker.

Mr. Sarles leaves his wife, Mary, and a sister, Mrs. J. Stedwell, of Connecticut. He lived at Route 1, Box 315.

Postal Employe Injured as Train Crashes Truck

Leonard Merta, 22, postal service employe, suffered a fractured skull when the mail truck he was pulling hit him after being struck by a Southern Pacific train at the Redwood City Station Saturday evening at 6:45 o'clock.

Under treatment at Mills Memorial Hospital, Merta was said today by hospital attaches to be progressing satisfactorily. He will be under treatment for at least three months, it was reported.

The accident occurred when Merta, who lives with his sister, Mrs. John Willard at 1629 James St., was pulling the baggage truck along the station platform preparatory to receiving express from the baggage car. The truck was not clear, according to railroad officials, but it is not known whether the engine or the baggage car struck the apparatus.

Merta has been employed at the post office about a year, Postmaster Robert E. O'Connell Jr. said. He handled the transfer of mail between the postoffice and the trains.

McCarthys Return From Yosemite

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCarthy of 50 Hudson St., with their son, Drury, and daughters, Jeanette and Mary Ellen, accompanied by Miss Mary K. Forsythe of San Mateo, returned yesterday from Yosemite Valley, where they had enjoyed a week's vacation outing.

SWISS KISS? NO "SWISS MISS"!

Mr. Stanley Laurel and Mr. Oliver Hardy seem to be doing O. K. in Switzerland, in this scene from "Swiss Miss," which will be co-featured with "Crime School," at the Fox Sequoia Theater this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

WOMAN MOTORIST JAILED

Pleading guilty to drunken driving charges following her arrest by Redwood City police at 8 o'clock Monday after her car and that of Josephine Seal, 42, Palo Alto, collided on El Camino Real near Five Points, Mrs. Dorothy M. Robotham, 39, Redwood City, was sentenced by Judge Edward I. McAuliffe today to pay a $100 fine or spend 20 days in jail. She chose the jail term.

Trio Returns From Trip South

Jack Manders, Joseph Visalli and Arthur Olsen have just returned to their Redwood City homes after having enjoyed a motor vacation trip to Southern California and Old Mexico. They visited in Fresno, La Jolla, Los Angeles and Ojai and went into Mexico as far as Agua Caliente. They were away for a little more than a week.

Cash Insurance Dividend Given Plant Employes

Distribution of approximately $3000 dividend to 1256 Johns-Manville employes in eight J-M factories who participate in the group health and accident insurance provided by the company, was announced today by Manager E. S. Hurrell of the Redwood City plant.

Checks aggregating $93.63 will be distributed to 27 hourly-paid workers at the local plant as soon as the necessary bookkeeping arrangements can be made, Hurrell said.

A preliminary estimate placed the highest check in the local distribution at about $4 and the lowest at about $3, graduated according to each insured worker's share of the total premium and based on the amount the employe has paid in premiums.

Employes insured the entire year between May 1, 1937, and April 30, 1938, will share in the dividend.

Any employe who has been laid off because of business conditions since April 30, 1938, the date the dividend was declared, will receive his check through the mail, Hurrell said.

THEFT CHARGED TO BOYS

Two boys were turned over to juvenile authorities late yesterday afternoon on charges of stealing an auto storage battery from the Western Auto Supply Co., police reported. The boys allegedly tried to walk out of the store with the battery, but were caught by the manager.

NEIGHBORHOOD ROWS AIRED

Dispute Over Keeping of Poultry and Dogs Comes Before M. P. Council

MENLO PARK, June 29—Neighborhood quarrels over ducks, pigeons, chickens, and dogs were brought to the attention of the Menlo Park City Council last night when F. M. Lintner appeared to demand action on a petition signed by him and charging violations of city ordinances against Dr. W. A. Van Buren.

In return, Dr. Van Buren filed a petition asserting that Lintner is violating the city ordinance covering the keeping of poultry, and J. Avery Smith, a signer of the original petition, told the council that both principals in the matter were violating city laws.

So bad are conditions around San Mateo Ave., where all parties to the grievance live, Smith said, that he had to buy an "electric fly catcher and a power spray" to clear his house of flies.

The original petition charged that Dr. Van Buren kept poultry within five feet of his neighbors' property, that his ducks and chickens clucked, cackled, and crowed offensively, that the poultry was permitted to run loose, and that garbage was burned in his incinerator nearly every night.

Visibly annoyed at being forced to referee the controversy, the city council invited petitioners to the next meeting to give testimony.

"Before we get through with this thing everybody in that neighborhood will be abiding by all the laws," Mayor James E. Cooper informed the disputants.

Three ordinance amendments introduced at earlier meetings received final readings and votes of approval. They included the rezoning of the John Fraccia property on Santa Cruz Dr. from residential to commercial; the establishment of a combined dog license and rabies vaccination fee; and increases in city employes' pay.

By stipulation between counsel, the Peninsula Bag Company on Arbor Rd. will cease by July 18 all operations creating noise and odors, City Atty. James T. O'Keefe Jr. reported.

The Ramblers Club was granted permission to reopen the Live Oak Ave. dance hall formerly called the Blue Moon.

O. Henry, best known for his stories of New York, was born in North Carolina, and spent his early life in the South and Southwest.

Sunday Picnickers Driven Out by Fire

Hundreds of Sunday picnickers at Oak Cove Park on Crystal Springs Rd., east of San Mateo were driven out by a four-acre brush and grass fire which raged for nearly an hour. No serious damage was done by the blaze, which was extinguished by men and equipment from the Redwood City station of the county fire department.

Work Pushed On Big Project

SAN MATEO, June 28 — With steady progress being made on the large new San Mateo Junior College building now under construction on the new campus near the San Mateo High School, indications are that students in 1939 will be enjoying one of the most modern college buildings in the state.

Twenty men formed the crew that started operations, while from 50 to 70 will be used at the peak of the work on the $250,000 structure.

Although not the largest one of the group that will eventually grace the 30-acre campus, the structure still has tremendous proportions. It is 281 feet long, 114 feet wide at the wings, and its two stories rise 35 feet. A basement under the center part will be fitted up with storerooms, boiler room, and several radio rooms. A long ramp will lead down to the basement entrance to provide a means of bringing in school equipment and supplies.

An elevator, an unusual feature of a college building, will also provide a means of carrying supplies to the upper floors.

The structure is of reinforced concrete throughout, with even the roof being of concrete. The building will offer stiff resistance to earthquakes, and meets the modern requirements to offset such danger. The exterior, a cement finish, is placed right on the concrete. There are no towers to offer future possible danger in case of earthquakes.

The building has its main entrance facing in to the rest of the campus and will be 200 feet from Delaware Ave., the west boundary of the new college grounds. Other entrances will be at each end of the long structure. The front entrance will have long windows which will extend up into the second floor. At the end entrances, stairways will lead up to the second floor, while at one end a stairway will lead down to the boiler room.

The main floor will have an 18-foot corridor. The main stairway to the second floor will be opposite the main entrance in the center of the building. It will be a double stairway. Under it will be a way to the basement.

The first floor of the new building, which is planned to be the science building for the college, includes eight large units of rooms, each unit of which will include a large laboratory, a small office, and a preparation room, and supply space. Also two general lecture rooms with raised seating arrangement and one students' study room will be on the first floor.

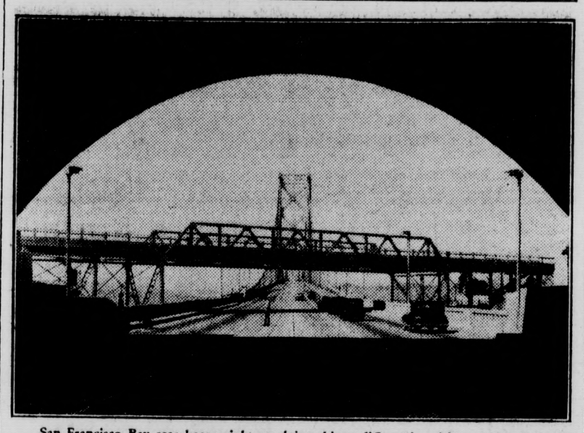
The second floor will contain six of the large units plus a small radio laboratory, three large lecture rooms, and a study room. An extra room has been provided in the botany unit for an herbarium, and another room has been added to the zoology unit for an embryology laboratory. The second floor also contains several dark rooms as additions to the physics department.

The building itself includes the most modern ideas for school structures. Before the plans were settled upon, many other plans were examined, and numerous modern plants were visited to gain an idea of the best plans for the new plant.

A good heating plant has been provided, ventilation is well taken care of, a plentiful supply of electrical units is included, and clocks and telephones in abundance for such a large building will be in evidence.

A public address system reaching to every room is included in the building, and the system provides for communication with one or all rooms at any time. The long corridors are lined with student lockers built into the walls. This is recognized as the most satisfactory system for providing the greatly needed locker space.

Bridging the Bridge of Size



San Francisco Bay area keeps right on doing things differently. After putting over the biggest bridge in the world, they put a bridge over it, rendering it easier for motorists visiting the Golden Gate Exposition to make the round trip from the mainland. And there's parking space for 14,000 cars, too. Picture above shows a section of the bridge over the bridge, and is furnished by General Petroleum's Mobilgas scout.

DEATH-BED GEMUR WILL REJECTED BY COURT; CONTEST OF OTHER SEEN

Two startling developments characterized the Joseph A. Gemur will case Monday when Judge Maxwell McNutt threw the alleged death-bed will out of court.

Atty. Joseph J. Bullock advised the court that his client, Mrs. Blanche Bonney Graham of Seattle, Wash., would contest the 1932 Gemur will filed for probate by his adopted daughter, Mrs. Clara Oeschger.

In court last week Mrs. Oeschger admitted that the alleged 1932 death bed will, supposed to have been signed by Gemur Mar. 6 at Peralta Hospital, Oakland, was fraudulently witnessed two days after Gemur's death by two Oakland physicians. Judge McNutt ordered a transcript of the case sent to Earl Warren, district attorney of Alameda County.

Bullock put Miss Henrietta Williamson, Peralta Hospital nurse, on the stand this morning. She testified that she had never seen Mrs. Oeschger present the death bed will to Gemur for inspection or signature.

Mrs. Graham received only $5 under terms of both the 1932 and 1938 wills. She based her contest on undue influence of Mrs. Oeschger over Gemur. She alleged that Mrs. Oeschger was Gemur's confidential business adviser and took undue advantage of that fact, virtually dictating the property distribution set up in the 1932 will.

S. C. Realty Man's Father Passes Away

SAN CARLOS, June 29—Leon Solgatsch, 81, 1933 Easton Ave., San Carlos, died at his home this morning after an illness of about 10 months. He had moved there from San Francisco about two months ago. He lived with a son, Abner Sholl, San Carlos real estate dealer. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Sinai Memorial Chapel, San Francisco.

Eighty-five thousand rainbow trout fingerlings are to be distributed in the Colorado River below Boulder Dam. Boulder Lake is to be stocked with warm water species of fish, particularly bass.

More Large Realty Deals Are Recorded

Two more large-sized deals on record today at the county courthouse bore evidence of continued activity in Peninsula real estate.

Atlas Realty Co. sold to Benjamin Edlin 17 parcels in Blossom Heath Manor, opposite Bay Meadows on El Camino Real, for $12,500. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Giansiracusa sold to Mrs. Virginia Reid land in Friendly Acres Subdivision 2 for $10,000.

In addition, John L. Bradley, owner of property in the Bowie Estate, Hillsborough, filed a $28,324.50 builder's contract with James V. Dowsett.

Mr. Oliveira leaves his wife, Mrs. Maria Jose Bandeira; a daughter, Mrs. Floripes Correia dos Santos; a son, Antonio Bandeira; two grandchildren, and his father, Jose Correia de Oliveira, all of Portugal. He was a brother of Joaquin Correia de Oliveira, a brother-in-law of Antonio Figueiredo, an uncle of Arthur Figueiredo and a cousin of Batista Aires, all of Redwood City. $280,000 Set As Term Cost Of 3140 Acres

Stanford's President To Ask Supervisors To Buy Holding

Details of a proposal by which San Mateo County may save 3140 acres of the virgin Butano forest area in Pescadero Canyon will be filed with the board of supervisors within 10 days, it was learned Tuesday.

At the same time it was disclosed that Stanford University has already taken off the market 6000 acres of the Butano forest south of the Butano ridge.

There is still a possibility that a portion of the Butano, swept by fire in 1936, may be logged by the Santa Cruz Lumber Co.

14-YEAR CONTRACT

San Mtaeo County will be offered the 3140-acre tract for $280,000 on a 14-year time contract, it was learned. Payments would amount to $20,000 a year for 14 years.

The area lies in the Pescadero canyon east of Memorial Park and south of Shrine Grove, bounded by the Butano Ridge on the south and Jones Gulch on the north. It includes portions of six sections, and is described as one of the most beautiful of California's forested areas.

WILBUR DUE SOON

Stanford University, which holds a large interest in the lands through the estate of Timothy Hopkins, has arranged to take the southern 6000 acres of the forest off the market.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of the university who is scheduled to be in Vancouver, B. C., for the next 10 days, is expected to make a formal proposal to the San Mateo County board on his return.

LEGION URGES BOARD TO SAVE FOREST

Redwood City Post 105, American Legion, last night joined the numerous organizations opposing logging of the Butano Forest on Pescadero Creek. The post unanimously passed a resolution to be presented to the board of supervisors of San Mateo County urging that the board "take such action as may be required to preserve the Butano Forest Area in the interests of citizens of this county."

Blasphemy is still a crime in most states.

Labor Council Raps 'League'

In response to an inquiry from Dr. Charles C. Gans, county health director, A. H. Randall, secretary of the Central Labor Council, has denied that organized labor had sought to remove Dr. Gans from office.

Labor's Non-Partisan League and the International Workers Order demanded removal of Dr. Gans and the entire board of health; construction of new facilities at Community hospital and increases in the payroll at the hospital.

Randall declared that only the Central Labor Council would represent labor on matters before the board of supervisors. His letter:

"In reply to your request for information on certain individuals and organizations appearing before the board of supervisors, Tuesday, June 14, I am pleased to inform you that they are not a part of, or affiliated with, the San Mateo Central Labor Council, or the San Mateo Building Trades Council, and are not labor organizations in any sense of the word.

"The 'Labor's Non-Partisan League' of California is a political organization formed supposedly to combat enemies of the working man aspiring for public office. Just where they enter into the county health set up, your guess is as good as mine.

"The International Workers Order is some kind of an insurance company, and I believe you have to join the order to participate in the insurance.

"As to how many they represent, my guess is that the total would be surprisingly small in our county. If you could see a membership list, which you never will, you would find that Reynolds and his Unemployed Council, Worker's Alliance, WPA Worker's League, Committee for Peace and Democracy, League Against War and Fascism, and all rest of the like, are all composed of the same men. They change the name of their organization to fit the situation and I am surprised that on Tuesday they failed to call themselves the 'Protector's of Worker's Health League.'

"It seems a shame that our county newspapers, who are well aware of who represents labor in our county, should headline their story in such a way that many of our citizens think this order is representing organized labor. Any time that organized labor has a message for the board of supervisors about health and welfare, or any other subject we have plenty of bona-fide union men to deliver it to them."

SCHOOL BUDGET BOOSTED

SAN MATEO, June 28—Calling for a $94,000 increase in expenditures, a budget of $470,433 for the year 1938-39 was passed tentatively last night by the San Mateo Union High School district board of trustees. The boost will increase the tax rate about 11 cents, according to school officials.

Dope Peddler On Probation

Lillian Moore, alias Lillian Boni, jailed on narcotics charges after federal and state agents raided a Colma inn, was admitted to three year's probation Monday afternoon by Judge A. R. Cotton providing she serves 90 days in the county jail. She was given a five-day stay of execution to arrange her affairs.

Charles Ross, charged with assault on a minor, failed to enter a plea and the case was continued two weeks.

Thomas Wilson, one of the principals in the Lawndale vice case, was arraigned on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and pandering.

W. W. Mell was arraigned on check charges. He pleaded not guilty.

In Judge Maxwell McNutt's court Henry Yee, Menlo Park Chinese charged with attacking a young Chinese girl, pleaded not guilty. The case was continued two weeks to set.

Trial of Rexford I. Watson, accused of stealing equipment from a Hillsborough quarry, was set for Aug. 5.

Pleadings of John Fischer, Joseph Fischer and Fred Welte, arrested Mar. 15 at "The Bowl" in Millbrae for allegedly operating a track book, was continued two weeks.

BITTEN BY PET DOG

Sam Carcione, 428 Ruby St., was bitten Monday by his police dog and was treated by Dr. Richard Ames. The dog was taken to the pound for observation for rabies. Carcione said the dog had been sick and bit him when he was playing with him.

Water Is Turned Into New Line South of R. C.

The new 36-inch water pipe line which has just been laid along El Camino Real from Five Points in Redwood City to California Ave. in Menlo Park had water in it Tuesday for the first time.

Following the making of a connection during the night between the new line and the present 66-inch line which was laid through Redwood City in 1936, water was turned into the new pipe at 9 a.m. While the hookup was being made, the Ravenswood, East Palo Alto and other southend districts were without water.

With water in the line, tests of the pipe by sections were being made by engineers working under direction of Louis A. McAtee of Redwood City, engineer in charge of the project for the San Francisco Water Co.

Following the tests, streets which have been torn up will be repaved, and valves and meter boxes will be installed.

Only one section of the line remains to be completed. That is a 100-foot portion over San Francisquito Creek, which has to be built on special foundations. The two lengths of the line were connected over the creek for testing purposes by means of smaller pipes.

Completion of the entire project so that Palo Alto may begin to take its supply from the new line is expected by August 1.

South county fire departments stood by while water was drained from the main Hetch Hetchy lines from the bay to Spring Valley as workmen labored feverishly on the task of cutting in the new water line.

With the grass fire season at its height, it was necessary to dispatch county fire equipment to the area to stand guard, according to Fire Warden Bert L. Werder.

During one year of the California gold strike in 1849 10,000 men died of various diseases caused by lack of food, shelter and medical supplies.

Clean-up Move Advances Here

Continued progress marks Redwood City's "Clean Up During 1938" campaign, according to information given the citizens' committee, which is headed by Paul E. Lowe as chairman and Frank A. De Patta as secretary.

CLEAN UP DURING 1938

Reported recently to them is destruction, now under way, of the house, tank, shed, barn and fence at 712 Winslow, one of the city's landmarks. The structures were built some 67 years ago of lumber milled in the local hills, Lowe was informed.

Other activity which will aid in beautifying the city include the razing of the partially burned house and garage at 20 Poplar St. and the removal of a dilapidated barn on Chestnut St. near Main. A house on Beech St. which had been criticized is being repaired and sheds in the yard have been removed and the fence fixed and painted.

The citizens' committee has been called to meet again at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 7, in the Firehouse Auditorium.

Boys Reported Lost On Bay Are Found

The sheriff's office, Redwood City and San Mateo police Tuesday hunted for two North Fair Oaks boys after their frantic parents reported them lost on San Francisco Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. William Amberger, who live at 12th and Fair Oaks Aves., appealed for help in locating their sons, Jack, 11, and Bill, 13, at 10:30 p.m. They said the youngsters had started early in the morning in a small schooner to retrieve a skiff from Seal Slough.

The sheriff's office notified the police departments and sent the Ambergers to the Redwood City Yacht Harbor. A few minutes later Mr. and Mrs. Amberger reported to Dep. Sheriff Hugh Williams that the boys had been found.

Guards Posted As New Trouble Feared in 'War'

Further violence in the war between union labor and non-union contractors was feared here by Sheriff James J. McGrath, who placed special guards in the south county area to prevent repetition of the creosote bombings which damaged three homes Monday night.

"This is a dangerous dispute," Sheriff McGrath said. "I'm afraid someone is going to get hurt. Our only interest in the matter is to protect property and to keep the peace."

He said he had placed the south county area under special guard, and had offered to co-operate with the police departments of Menlo Park and Belmont where the two other homes were damaged.

Most serious trouble was feared at Belmont where armed guards were protecting the home damaged there. The guard fired one shot Monday night but the fact that his gun jammed prevented bloodshed, according to Police Chief Fred Johnson.

Sheriff McGrath said a San Carlos contractor who hires union labor, but who has been using a wall board which does away with plaster, has been warned to expect trouble. The contractor told the sheriff that he fears that the plasterers' union will oppose use of the patent wall covering.

Wendell Phillips, Boston reformer and orator, withdrew from active law practice in 1839 because he was unwilling to be bound by the advocate's oath of obedience to the Constitution.

County Rodeo Entry Sought

Who will represent San Mateo County as it's finest Outdoor High School Girl this year at the California Rodeo at Salinas, July 14 to 17?

Betty Norberg of Burlingame was the first girl in California to enter the contest, but she has withdrawn, since she was selected as the Girl from the Golden West.

Melba Warren of Daly City, who represented San Mateo County last year at Salinas, has again entered the contest, but as yet there are no entries from San Mateo, Burlingame, Redwood City, Half Moon Bay or South San Francisco.

The Redwood City Chamber of Commerce is the official organization to handle the contest.

The county representative and her mother goes to San Francisco July 12 when she will be the guest of the San Francisco Rotary Club at a luncheon at the Palace Hotel. Then they will go to the various radio stations and broadcast. That evening, they will be the guests of the Clift Hotel for dinner and then two days as guest of the California Rodeo, at Salinas. If she wins the state contest, she and her mother will receive a trip to Glacier National Park, with all expenses paid, or she may select a year's free schooling at the Salinas Junior College, with board and room paid.

All entries should be in the office of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce by June 30.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

June 10, 1938

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been troubled with weak kidneys for some time. I was also very nervous and had a tired feeling all the time. My legs were weak, and I had inflammation on my feet. I also had palpitation of the heart and gas.

At the suggestion of a friend I commenced the use of Yee & Ko Herbs. The result was remarkable. In just five weeks my trouble had all vanished. I am happy to say that Yee & Ko Herbs have brought me back in health again.

I am sincerely recommending Yee & Ko Herbs to anyone suffering as I did.

Dear Sirs: I had a severe attack of "gall bladder" trouble last Spring. The doctor told me that if I had another attack I would have to have an operation. Dreading an operation, I decided to try your herbs. After taking two months of your herb treatments I can truthfully say that I am absolutely all right and well again.

I can highly recommend Yee & Ko Herbs to anyone who suffers as I did, and feel sure, if you give them a trial, they surely will help you.

WPA Laborers Gain Increase In Hourly Pay

Labor costs on the 12 Works Progress Administration Projects in San Mateo County went up 10 per cent Monday as WPA headquarters announced statewide increases in the rate of pay and reductions in work hours.

Affected—and with increased appropriations for labor costs necessitated—is the three quarters of a million dollar county road improvement program, and WPA projects all over the county, including several in Redwood City, Burlingame and San Mateo.

Unskilled labor, which under the old rate received 51 cents an hour for 108 hours of work, will get 69 cents an hour for 80 hours work per month under the new scale.

Semi-skilled labor, formerly 84 hours at 77 cents, now will get 81 cents and work 80 hours.

Skilled labor will get $1.12 for 76 hours work per month, as compared to $1.09 for 78 hours work.

The local WPA headquarters said that the wage and hour change will require supplemental appropriations from sponsors of WPA projects.

Under the change men on WPA will get more time to go out and look for jobs in private industry and will also have more time to get some outside work, according to WPA officials.

Among the 12 projects involved, and of which the sponsors will have to contribute more funds to pay for the increased labor costs, are:

Countywide:

Road improvement program—a $775,000 job.

Recreation projects in most of the Peninsula communities.

Library projects in the various libraries in the county—repair of books and indexing.

Redwood City:

Storm sewer project.

Sewing project.

Boys' State Elects Dinuba Lad Governor

The Legion-sponsored Boys' State at Sacramento, which Pherron Muchmore and John Cook are attending from Sequoia High School, elected officers yesterday, naming Ralph Miller of Dinuba, a "Federalist," as governor; William Ulyate, Riverside, lieutenant governor; William Colburn, Corona, secretary of state; William Pratt, Los Angeles, treasurer; Harry Bell, Torrance, state controller, and Graham Kelly, San Diego, attorney general.

'Robot' Plane, Ship Pilot To Be Manufactured Here

An industry with possibilities which appear to be unlimited was revealed today to have been launched in Redwood City.

It is the manufacture of a remotely controlled automatic pilot for airplanes or ocean-going vessels.

Coming as the fulfillment of an eight-year dream of an aviation pioneer, perfection of the simple-appearing yet amazing device has led to establishment of a shop where 25 of the controls soon will be in the process of manufacture.

Inventor of the patented "robot co-pilot" is C. W. Beeson, who built and flew his first airplane in Lincoln, Nebr., in 1910. He had owned three planes before outbreak of the World War in 1914, and has been interested in aviation ever since. For the past four years Beeson, now 51 and possessed of a keen mind and deft fingers, has been in San Francisco, where he resides with his wife and four children at 646 San Diego Ave. He has quietly worked on his control during this time in a private machine shop owned by a Redwood City friend, and has just as unostensibly conducted experiments in a plane while flying over the Peninsula.

Backers of Beeson and promoters of his Automatic Control—that is the only name given it—are A. W. Buschke, 3039 Broadway, Redwood City, local apartment house owner, and Archie A. Baldocchi, youthful aviation enthusiast who at present lives in San Francisco at 250 Sea Cliff Ave. but plans soon to make his home in Redwood City.

The three have formed a corporation, known as Automatic Controls Inc., with Buschke as president and general manager; Baldocchi as secretary-treasurer, and Beeson as a director and superintendent of operations. They have no stock for sale in the firm, but within a month or so expect to have their first supply of automatic controls ready for distribution.

That the control is perfected has been proved to the satisfaction not only of the three men by a series of tests conducted out of Mountain View Airport, other pilots, some of them internationally famous, have inspected and tested the "robot" by actual use. The device is very similar to the one used two years ago by Capt. Frank Hawkes when he made his famous flight across the United States. That one also was built by Beeson.

The tests have taken the company's black and red Model R four-place Lycoming powered Stinson cabin monoplane over the Peninsula on many occasions. While Beeson has worked with the robot, at the controls has been Nat Messer, former Palo Alot pilot who now lives in Alameda where he is agent for both Stinson and Ryan planes. Beeson himself flies, but has no pilot's license.

The control firm now is preparing for tests by the U. S. Department of Commerce. If the device meets approval, which its backers are confident it will, the department will issue it an "Accepted Type Certificate"—"the highest type of recommendation that we can get," President Buschke explained. An inspector from the department's aeronautics division saw the equipment last Thursday.

The control itself is made in three units. Altogether they add not more than 25 pounds to the weight of an airplane, thereby making the control adaptable to the smallest of airplanes or usable on the largest of clippers or airliners or ocean vessels. One of the units controls the ailerons of the plane, one controls the rudder, and one the elevator. Only the one working on the rudder would be necessary on a steamship. In a plane, the units may be used separately, to relieve the pilot of any one of his duties, or they may be used together or in any combination.

LIGHTWEIGHT CONSTRUCTION

Placed together, as they are in the big Stinson, the three units occupy but little more than a cubic foot of space—about as much room as the co-pilot's seat which they displace. But in this plane they are located there only for the sake of convenience. They could as well be installed in the fusilage, in the wings, or beneath the plane, the three units together or apart.

To keep the automatic pilot light in weight, the framework is built of dural castings. Other material in evidence is brass, used for plates and wires; wood and leather made into bellows-like "pneumatics," and rubber tubing. While the tubing is of rubber in the test model, it will be of flexible metal in the manufactured controls. Vacuum for operation of the "robot" is obtained by use of Venturi tubes, attached to the gear below the plane.

Heart of the control, of course, is its magnetic compass, installed in front of the pilot's seat. Although there are other, more ponderous automatic controls in existence, this one, Beeson explained, is the only one which uses the magnetic compass which he has developed.

FULLY AUTOMATIC

By use of this type of automatic pilot, an aviator can chart his course to his destination, set the control by means of its two radio-like dials, take his ship into the air, flip the three controlling switches with one split-second movement, and the robot will guide the craft to its destination, keeping within 1½ degrees of its course, the inventor avers.

One of the dials controls direction, the other altitude. By the latter, a plane can be made to continue in a climb or in a descent, or fly on the level. By the direction dial, a plane—or ocean liner—will be kept steadfast in any direction charted, through storm or clouds, varying only in the event of a wind, which an aviator would allow for in plotting his course, just as he would if he were controlling the ship manually.

So effective is the control, the inventor explained, that if a plane is set for one direction but is started in another by the human pilot, when the automatic control is switched on the ship will reverse its course, if necessary, to head in the right direction.

WOULD WORK IN AUTO

The robot could even be used in an automobile were there a place where a car could be sent in one direction as a plane can be in the air or a liner on the ocean.

Potential market for the control, its backers believe, is the entire world. Domestic and foreign navies and armies, and land and ocean airlines, as well as private individuals are expected to be customers.

"We don't know just how big a thing this is," Buschke explained.

Cost of the device, which can be installed in any ship without alterations, is expected to be about $2500, he estimated.

MANY ADVANTAGES

Principal advantages seen by Inventor Beeson for his automatic pilot are (1) its light weight, which would not materially reduce the payload of a plane; (2) its adaptability for any type of plane, whether stick or wheel controlled; (3) the fact that it can be readily disconnected instantly, thereby making it impossible for the device to lock controls and possibly cause an accident; (4) the fact that it is even more reliable than a human pilot inasmuch as it permits of no variance; (5) the fact that its simplicity of construction and lack of moving parts would cause its life to be at least as long as that of the plane in which it was installed.

Manufacture of the control in Redwood City will result in employment of four precision machinists to work with Beeson as soon as the commerce department has issued its A.T.C. certificate, President Buschke said.

The local shop, equipped with two lathes and other valuable equipment, is ready for production on the contemplated scale. The directors of the corporation prefer not to make location of the shop generally known because the precision nature of the work requires that the mechanics be permitted to work undisturbed by the inquiries of the public which likely would follow disclosure of the location of the shop.

ALWAYS IN R. C.

What the automatic pilot will mean to aviation, to its inventor and backers, to Redwood City as the home of the device, only time will tell. Buschke, Baldocchi and Beeson believe the possibilities are unlimited. They visualize the time when the small shop will be replaced by a larger plant, although a big factory never will be needed due to the small size of the control and the fact that its manufacture involves almost all precision work comparable to that performed by a watchmaker.

But of one thing they are sure. Redwood City will remain the home of Automatic Controls Inc. as long as they own the company.

'Y' LEADERS AT CAMP MEET

A "camp meeting" was to be enjoyed by local YMCA leaders this evening when they went to Camp Yu-Mi-Ci-A at Memorial Park, where the boys' camp is now being held, for their monthly meeting.

More than 13,500,000 trees were planted in New York state's 1938 reforestation program.

Three Homes Suffer Damage During Night

Guard Shoots at, But Misses, Vandals At Belmont

Labor war flared in San Mateo County Monday night when three homes at widely separated points were damaged by creosote. All three buildings were being constructed by contractors who admitted hiring non-union labor.

A "creosote bomb" squad of three unidentified men escaped under a hail of buckshot when a guard at a home in Belmont fired as the vandals tossed five jars of the corrosive chemical into the building. Three of the jars broke, causing at least $500 damage to the interior. The home was being built by Earl Milbourne, 1405 Fair Oaks Ave., Menlo Park, for Tito Gonzales of Belmont.

"This is a war to the finish," Milbourne challenged. "I'll hire 100 per cent non-union labor after this. Those rats have threatened to give me a 'going over,' but I'll be ready for them."

He applied to Sheriff James J. McGrath for a permit to carry a weapon to defend himself if attacked.

SEVEN 'BOMBS' TOSSED

Second victim of the creosote squad, probably the same which worked on the Belmont job, was the $4000 home being constructed at Live Oak Ave. and Evelyn St. in Menlo Park for Mrs. Henrietta Wilke of Palo Alto. The contractor was Edgar Kephart, 604 Cowper St., Palo Alto.

The marauders tossed seven quart fruit jars filled with creosote through the windows. Four of the jars broke, spattering the walls and floor.

Neighbors heard the noise at 11 p.m. and rushed out to hear a car drive away.

Police Chief Foster Andrews of Menlo Park said he searched the jars for fingerprints, but all had been smeared.

SECOND TIME FOR ONE

Damaged for the second time within two months was the home being erected at 427 Laurel Ave., North Palo Alto, by W. M. Bernard of Mountain View. Damage last night, according to the report on file at the sheriff's office, was $300. The home was creosoted first on Apr. 28, when the kitchen and dining room were smeared. Damage in the first raid was $200.

Belmont Police Chief Fred Johnson had a partial description of the three men who tossed creosote into the Belmont home. A guard, sleeping in the front room, awakened as the creosote-filled fruit jars splattered around him. He fired at the men, but his double-barrelled shot-gun jammed, and only one barrel finally discharged.

Chief Johnson said the guard apparently missed, but a check was being made of all hospitals and doctors' offices to learn if any buckshot wounds were reported.

DESCRIPTIONS GIVEN

All three men were of swarthy complexion, Chief Johnson said. Two were about 5 feet 7 inches tall, the other was 5 feet 4 inches. Several suspects, one of them a union agent, will be questioned, the chief said.

Two of the homes were covered by insurance. Kephart's job was not.

"We'll fight this thing," Kephart declared. "We'll form a vigilante committee if necessary."

Sheriff McGrath said he had succeeded in stopping sabotage in another labor war last fall by posting special guards at homes under construction on which non-union labor was employed. He said he would order special guards posted immediately.

Kephart said he had been warned the day before the creosoting by a member of a labor union that some of the non-union contractors were going to get a "going over."

The sheriff said he would check this clue in an effort to run down the creosote squad.

7 Boy Firebugs Held for Blazes At Menlo Park

MENLO PARK, June 27—Three San Francisco youths were turned over to juvenile authorities in that city today after their appearance before the Menlo Park Board of Fire Commissioners on charges of incendiarism.

Evidence submitted by Fire Chief E. F. Hara indicated that the trio had been guilty of setting grass fires in the Menlo Park district during the past 10 days.

Four small boys, all of Menlo Park, also were questioned by the commissioners and reprimanded. Chief Hara said that 10 fires in the district had been set by the seven youths. The San Franciscans, said to be commuters to this district, were placed in charge of Lieut. Henry A. Reilly, of the San Francisco police.

Chief Hara repeated his warning to all residents of the fire district that permits must be obtained before any trash or weeds are burned.

Iodine from seaweed has been found more effective in the treatment of goiter, than other forms of iodine.
